

rence of luminous centipedes in the same county is not without interest.

Our knowledge of the "myriapod" fauna of Lincolnshire and Norfolk is still too incomplete for a profitable examination into the influence of such local factors as geology, altitude, vegetation, and rainfall.

IV. REFERENCES.

- BRADÉ, HILDA K., and S. GRAHAM BIRKS. May 1917. "Notes on Myriapoda.—V. On Cylindroiulus (Leucoiulus) nitidus (Verhoeff)." Ann. & Mag. Nat. Hist. (8) xix. pp. 417-424.
- BRADÉ-BIRKS, HILDA K., and S. GRAHAM BRADÉ-BIRKS. Dec. 1917. "Notes on Myriapoda.—VII. A new Member of the Order Ascospermophora (Jacksoneuina bradæ, gen. et sp. nov.)." Journ. Zool. Research, ii. pp. 135-149.
- . Oct. 1918. "Notes on Myriapoda.—XII. A Preliminary List for Derbyshire, with a Description of Brachycheuteuma quartum, sp. n., and Chordeumella scutellare bagnalli, var. n." Ann. & Mag. Nat. Hist. (9) ii. pp. 319-336.
- . Sept. and Oct. 1918. "Notes on Myriapoda.—XIII. Some Kent Records." Lancs. & Ches. Nat. xi. pp. 152-165 & 186-192. (Appendix by S. Priest.)
- . Jan. 1920. "Notes on Myriapoda.—XX. Luminous Chilopoda." Ann. & Mag. Nat. Hist. (9) v. pp. 1-30, pls. i. & ii.
- EVANS, WILLIAM. 1906-7. "The Myriapods (Centipedes and Millipedes) of the Forth Area." Proc. Roy. Phy. Soc. Edinb. xvi. pp. 405-414 and xvii. pp. 109-120.
- LATZEL, R. 1880 and 1884. "Die Myriopoden der österreichisch-ungarischen Monarchie."
- STAINFORTH, T. July 1919. "The Bristly Millipede in North Lines." The Naturalist, p. 234.
- VERHOEFF, K. W. 1891. "Ein Beitrag zur mitteleuropäischen Diplo-poden-Fauna." Berl. ent. Zeitsch. xxxvi. pp. 115-166, pls. v.-viii.

16 Bank Street,
Darwen, Lancashire,
2nd September, 1920.

LV.—A new Termite from Mesopotamia.

By Prof. F. SILVESTRI.

[Plate XX.]

Microcerotermes diversus, sp. n.

Mas alatus. Corpus (in alcool) pallide ochroleucum capite et pronoto fulvo-ochraceis, alis hyalinis nervulis majoribus pallide fulvescentibus.